PHYSIOTHERAPY ASSOCIATES TO OPEN AT THE VILLAGE AT ODENTON STATION

BALTIMORE – Klein Enterprises announced today that Physiotherapy Associates (Physio) is relocating to The Village at Odenton Station, located in West Anne Arundel County opposite the Odenton MARC Rail Station. Physio, an outpatient physical rehabilitation clinic, plans to open next month at its new location. Construction began in mid-November.

Physio is a leading national provider of outpatient physical and occupational rehabilitation, and prosthetic and orthotic services with more than 550 clinics in 26 states. Physio offers physical therapy, sports medicine, orthopedic services, concussion management, vestibular therapy, and pediatric and women’s health services.

“At Klein, we’re committed to bringing high-quality, diverse companies and organizations to our centers,” said Patricia Palumbo, director of leasing for Klein Enterprises. “Physiotherapy Associates and their respected level of service continues to build on our commitment to excellent tenants at The Village at Odenton Station.”

“Working with Klein Enterprises has been a good experience,” said Fernando Campos, assistant vice president of the Maryland and Washington, DC markets of Physio. “Patricia Palumbo is responsive and detail-oriented, but doesn’t bog down the process. We’re looking forward to moving into our new space.”

Physio, formerly located at 1132 Annapolis Road in Odenton, selected The Village at Odenton Station for relocation because of its central location and access to public transportation. The clinic will also share space with Advanced Spine and Pain (ASAP), founded by Dr. Thomas Raley. ASAP specializes in minimally invasive spine surgery, and orthopaedics and pain management. The combined medical service offerings of Physio and ASAP will provide patients with a convenient location to fulfill their rehabilitation and physical therapy needs all under one roof.
