Klein Enterprises Adds to Team with Hiring of Nickolas Potts and James Fisher

Potts and Fisher will serve as controller and accounting associate, respectively

BALTIMORE – Klein Enterprises announced today the recent hiring of Nickolas Potts as controller and James Fisher as accounting associate. In his new role, Potts will be responsible for overseeing accounting functions for the company and all of its properties. Fisher’s responsibilities will include comprehensive ledger maintenance, account reconciliation and analysis, and financial reporting for all Klein Enterprises’ entities.

Potts comes to Klein Enterprises from Orleans Homebuilders, where he worked for over two years as controller and director of finance. He also previously served as chief financial officer for Holland Construction, a commercial developer and property manager. Potts’ professional background includes over 15 years of experience in the residential home building and land development industries.

Potts received his bachelor’s degree in accounting from Loyola College of Baltimore and holds certification as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). Potts resides in Stewartstown, Pa., with his wife, two daughters and son.

Fisher brings nearly 20 years of accounting experience to his new role at Klein Enterprises. His previous professional experience includes audit and process improvement and operational accounting and reporting for residential construction and land development projects.

Fisher graduated from Virginia Tech University with a bachelor’s degree in accounting. He lives in Bel Air with his wife and three daughters.
